ABOUT THE BOOK

This book intends to serve those who aspire to be on the senior positions in the field of Library and Information Science. They need to qualify National Eligibility Test for Lectureship/Junior Research Fellowship Examination being conducted by UGC twice a year in June and December. This examination is essential for the selection and recruitment of Lecturers, Assistant Librarians at the Universities and Librarians at the colleges. Even those who desire to get admission to Master's degree, M.Phil. and Ph.D. programmes in Library and Information Science are required to qualify objective type tests in Library and Information Science.

Besides this, large number of prestigious institutions and organisations conduct objective type tests related to Library and Information Science for the recruitment of Library Personnel, such as Staff Selection Commission, Delhi State, Kendriya Vidyalaya Sangathan etc. This book will be of immense use to the aspirants of such examinations.

The book has been written primarily to meet the requirements of those who aspire to qualify NET/SLET/JRF examinations in Library and Information Science. It may be of help to all those who are in the teaching profession as well as to the practising professionals who want to be abreast of latest information related to the profession.

GANDHI ROWLATT SATYAGRAHA AND BRITISH IMPERIALISM

Emergence of Mass Movements of Punjab & Delhi

Hari Singh, Ph.D.,H.E.S.
Principal
Jawaharlal Nehru Government Post-Graduate College
Faridabad, Haryana

ISBN 81-85-85004-22-6 Rs. 210

ABOUT THE BOOK

This work is a valuable contribution to the study of national liberation movement in India. Endowed with a freshness of approach, the historical process has been explained in the background of socio-economic tensions generated by the First World War and political mobilization of the masses through the charismatic personality of Mahatma Gandhi who led the first All India Mass Movement against the Rowlatt Bills in 1919. The area chosen for this, vivid in-depth study, Punjab and Delhi, is most appropriate as the movement was intense and forceful in this region. It is here that the forces of British imperialism clashed with Indian nationalism and the gruesome tragedy of Jallianwala Bagh took place. It was a period of excitement and ferment when the alien bureaucracy posed a challenge to the people in the name of Rowlatt Bills. So sudden was the reaction that Mahatma Gandhi became the mentor, a messiah and protector of Human values. Undaunted by British bullets, he gave a call for nation-wide Satyagraha and the programme included unity, self-sacrifice and fighting evil through non-violent struggle. This work is a definitive contribution to the study of the history of mass movements, as it captures their essence by discussing in detail day-to-day happenings, the mob-behaviour, the role of primary and secondary leaders and finally the influence of Mahatma Gandhi on the course of event. Rich in the use of rare and hitherto unexplored material, this work would also act as a model for researchers, absorbing to general readers and a reference tool for social scientists who wish to study the mechanism of British imperialism in colonial set-up.
